FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

MONEY MARKET FRIDAY, May 4-5 P. M. The stock market was slightly better to-day. The transactions were pretty equally divided between the different stocks. State stocks, railroad bonds, coal stocks and railroad stocks, were operated in to about the same extent. Indiana 6's improved 1/2 per cent; Cleveland and Toledo Railroad, 1; Michigan Central Railroad, 14; Michigan Southern Railroad, 215; Michigan Southern Construction, 1%. The consolidation of the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad stocks into one company has had a favorable effect on prices, and given quite an impetus to operations in the market. Other Western railroad stocks have also im proved, but sales continue limited. Eric Central and Reading remain firm at yesterday's quotations. The coal stocks are not in much demand just now, and are ot very well sustained. State stocks and railroad bonds appear to have reached their maximum. There is no speculation in any o' them. The absence of Eurorders must have an unfavorable influence upon

At the second board the market was influenced by the foreign news, and lower prices were accepted. The transactions were, however, quite limited, showing a disposition to hold for better prices, under any circumstances. Cumberland fell off 36 per cent; Erle Railroad. 36; Harlem, 36; Reading, 36; Michigan Southern Railroad, 1. The class of brokers who are governed in their operations by the price of consols had a fine opportunity to-day to make a demonstration; but we have not hear! or rall. A decline of 1% per cent in consols is not reported by every steamer, and they may not have snother such a chance for a long time. The firmest and most active stock this afternoon was Reading. We shall have the report of last week's coal business to-morrow. It will exceed that of any previous week this year, and be month's business last year was August, when the total receipts amounted to $505,345 39. The month of news is interesting in every particular, politically, financially and commercially. The most important item is the negotiation of a new loan by the English government for sixteen million pounds sterling. The announce-ment made by the Chancellor of the Exchequer of an enormous deficiency in the estimates for the current year, including the loan just negotiated, had an unfa-vorable effect on consuls, and they closed at a decline-The falling off was 11/4 to 15/4 per cent from the previous steamer. Hopes were still entertained that the Vienna conference would be resumed. There had been a more active demand for money in London, caused, it was supposed, by the temporary withdrawal of capital for deposit on the new loan. The returns of the Bank of England for the week ending the 14th April, compared with the previous week, exhibits the following varia-

Brown and bleached sheetings and shirtings are in rather limited request, at previous figures. There is a fair business being transacted in denims, drills and duck, at old rates. Ginghams and laws are rather more sought after, but are without change in value. Osnaburgs are unaltered. There is not a great deal doing in printing cloths or prints, but these are pretty firmly held Stripes and ticks are quiet and drooping. Woollens have not varied much. Blankets are dull and heavy. There not varied much. Blances in cassimeres, which com-mand pretty fair prices; but is cloths, flannels and jeans there is scarcely sufficient movement to make a market. hand are not very heavy, and are being closed out pretty quickly, though not in a satisfactory manner, as the selling prices through the auction rooms are seldem of a remunerative nature. Thus, though the season may close without leaving our merchants in possession of any considerable supplies, its pecuniary results will not be very agreeable in regard to profits. If losses are escaped, however, most parties will be content, and we have but little reason to doubt that this will be the issue of the Meat run up to a high figure during the past week. Hereafter it must be classed among the luxuries of life, and be the food of the rich, and of the poor only on holidays and festive occasions. Cattle sold for from 12 to 14 cents per pound last week, in the cattle market, and the retail prices are consequently inordinately high, and the different varieties have run up some two three and four cents in the pound. To in some sort make amends for this fish has become cheap. Shad is plentiful, and can be had for prices varying from twenty to thirty cents. Flounders, bass, halibut, and cod have

There is scarcely any poultry and game in market, nor will there be any until the Long Island snipe come in, which will probably occur in about a week. We miss from our list this week many well-known varieties, canvas backs, rabbits, &c. A plethoric purse is an essential requisite to those disposed to indulge in poultry of any description. Both butchers and poulterers who have had contracts with hotels and public institutions complain of the inordinate prices of all kinds of flesh, and say they are losing money.

Eggs are cheapening. So rejoice, ye pudding eaters

Spring vegetables are becoming quite plentiful. Radishes, carrots and beets blush crimson from out of bunches of green salad, spinach and leeks. Artichoke and asparagus, garlick and green peas, are to be seen in every direction. Potatoes still remain high; but if our information is correct they must come down before long. It appears that since the operation of the Reciprocity treaty, vast quantities of potatoes are sent from Nova Scotia to this port. In anticipation of good prices during the spring and summer they were kept back; but the demand for them fell off, poor people being driven to buy other food, and now they are coming in in great quantities. In Boston and Philadelphia they are selling for seventy-five cents a bushel, and good judges
